[FOCUS] ON PHOTOGRAPHY

Making its debut in 2020, this exhibition celebrates emerging and established photographers from all over the region. Attracting over 150 entries, the standard of work entered was high across all ranges of experience and ability.

The exhibition features the judges' selected works demonstrating the spectrum of photographic practices today; from the experimental to the documentary.

The judges include Kay Reeve - Royal Photographic Society Fellow; Donald MacLellan - renowned portrait photographer; John Griff - BBC Radio Presenter; Roddy Lloyd-Jones - Chenderit School Deputy Head and Photography teacher; and Matt Jeacock - Oxfordshire photographer and former Chenderit student.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who submitted their photographs to be considered for this exhibition. Many congratulations to all those that have been chosen to present their work.

We hope you enjoy the exhibition.
